Sub.: Invitation to join the Scientific Committee of the 12th RSAI World Congress

Respected Sir,

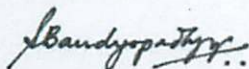

The World Congress of the Regional Science Association International will take place in Goa (India) from May 29th till June the 1st, 2018.

It is a promising meeting that is preparing to involve more than 700 regional scientists from across the world, include remarkable key note speeches and scientific contributions that can respond to the challenges of social integration, regional development and sustainability.

The organizing committee would like to invite you to be part of the Scientific Committee of the RSAI World Congress of 2018. The members of the scientific committee will select contributions to the congress and will participate actively in the Congress by providing support and guidance.

In anticipation of your kind acceptance,

Best Regards,

(Sumana Bandyopadhyay)

Chair, Local Organising Committee
President, Regional Science Association, India
