Dear Dr Michael Williams

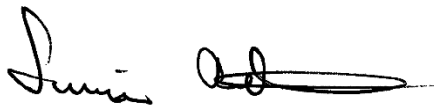

A number of years ago we were keen to recognise, on an annual basis, the significant and outstanding contribution that some trainers in the Trust make to postgraduate medical education.

Your trainee(s) have nominated you for your contribution to delivering excellence in teaching and training. Examples of the comments we received from your trainees about your training include:

“The reason for nominating Dr Williams is his continued and tireless effort to provide top level ophthalmology education to medical students. I worked with him in FY2 and he goes above and beyond working on days off to ensure people get the training they deserve. Also making it fun and memorable like his simulated eye clinic which the students love!”

I am delighted to forward a Certificate of recognition of your outstanding contribution to postgraduate medical education, which can be included in your appraisal folder.

Regards

Dr Simon Johnston
Director of Medical Education
